

Bringing expert global and local knowledge to your environment

EXPERTISE IN WASTE AND RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

RSM has a long history of advising clients in the waste and resource management industries, providing integrated solutions across our service lines in Australia and through our global network. The waste and resource management industries are constantly evolving and are impacted by changing government policy and regulation, consumer trends, environmental considerations (including climate change) and improvements in technology. RSM's experts are adaptive, think ahead of cyclical curves and respond quickly to your changing needs. We'll take the time to understand your unique operations, strategic directions and objectives and take a longer-term view in developing key relationships to objectively assess your strategic opportunities.

RSM is a full service firm providing a diverse range of specialist services that cater to all aspects of waste and resource management, from engineers, accountants and business advisers, assurance providers and business process review specialists. Being a truly national firm, RSM works seamlessly between offices and service lines to deliver tailored and co-ordinated solutions for our waste and resource management clients.

Through our knowledge of the industry, and the close relationships we develop with our clients, we are able to help support the owners of these businesses to achieve their goals.

OUR SERVICES

RSM has services tailored specifically to the waste and resource recovery industries:

Carbon and Sustainability

Our team of registered greenhouse and energy auditors are able to provide clients with advisory and assurance services on their greenhouse and energy data collection, calculation and reporting processes. We can review sustainability strategies, assess the efficiency of environmental management systems and provide tailored environmental advisory and assurance services. Specifically, RSM provides the following:

- Environmental Risk Management
- Greenhouse and Energy Reporting Assurance
- Carbon farming & emissions reduction fund assurance
- Regulatory compliance audits

Business Advisory

We offer services to help optimise the value of our clients operations, achieve optimal processes and unlock productivity.

Problems surrounding missed deadlines, quality and process issues, overtime and rising costs all hint at the opportunity for improvement and the use of our bespoke savings assessment service. This gives waste and resource management operations a snapshot view of their improvement opportunities and potential savings within OPEX and major works programmes.

Internal Audit

The increased focus on governance and controls has raised the profile and responsibility of internal auditors in both private and public organisations. Internal auditors are assuming a more strategic role, linked to the overall assessment of risk. RSM provides internal audit services of the highest quality to suit the needs of businesses and their stakeholders. Our services include:

- fully outsourced internal audit services
- provision of specialists in fields such as IT, environmental, project and tax audit
- partnering with in-house teams
- corporate governance advice

Health and Safety

RSM has a comprehensive background in reviewing Health and Safety management systems for both Government and private sector entities. This includes performing assessments of compliance with legislation and internal policies and procedures, as well as review of systems and processes with a focus on efficiencies and improvements

Project Assurance Services

Project Assurance should be independent and objective. RSM provides Project Assurance services for various large and/or risky projects of our clients. Our Project Assurance program is designed to ensure:

- adequate project governance mechanisms are in place
- project risks are monitored and adequately controlled
- adequate composition of project team members exist
- project scope changes are not occurring unnoticed
- project status reporting is true and fair
