3. DOCUMENTS YOU MAY RECEIVE

3.1. Statement of Advice

Whenever your adviser provides you with any personal financial advice, you are entitled to receive a Statement of Advice from us. A Statement of Advice contains the advice, the basis for our recommendation, and information about remuneration and other benefits which are applicable to the advice given.

3.2. Further Advice

If your adviser provides further advice that relates to the advice we have provided to you in a previous Statement of Advice and we do not give that further advice to you in writing you may request a copy of the Record of that Advice at any time up to seven (7) years from the date the adviser gave the further advice to you.

You can request the Record of Advice by contacting your adviser or RSM in writing or by telephone or by email.

3.3. Product Disclosure Statement

Where your adviser recommends a particular financial product (other than securities), you should receive a Product Disclosure Statement.

The Product Disclosure Statement contains information about the particular financial product including the features, benefits and risks associated with the financial product recommended, which will enable you to make an informed decision.

If you have not been provided with these documents, please consult with your adviser, or alternatively please contact RSM on (08) 9261 9200 and we shall endeavour to provide you with these documents.

3.4. Fee Disclosure Statements and Renewal Notices

If you enter into an ongoing fee arrangement that exceeds 12 months, then you will receive an annual Fee Disclosure Statement, setting out the fees you have paid to us, the services we have contracted to provide to you and the services we actually provide to you over the period.

In some circumstances your Fee Disclosure Statement will be combined with a Renewal Notice requesting your consent for us to continue to provide services to you.

4. HOW ARE WE REMUNERATED

RSM has an open, honest fee structure, which allows you to choose the payment option that suits you. You can pay a 'fee for service', which is based on the size and complexity of the work undertaken. This may be a single upfront fee or an ongoing fee. Either way all fees are discussed and agreed on before we commence preparing your financial plan.

If the advice relates to placement of insurance products, you may be able to opt to pay on a commission basis.

The actual amounts will be detailed in the Statement of Advice or Record of Advice provided to you, and where relevant a Letter of Engagement. Where appropriate, you can choose a combination of both fees and commission. Either way, you have the flexibility you need.

If an external organisation or person refers you to RSM, they may receive a referral payment from RSM.

Additionally your adviser will also notify you of any conflicts of interest or if there is anything that may influence their recommendation to you.

4.1. Overview

As an example the following are the minimum and maximum payment ranges (inclusive of GST) we may receive. The exact amount you will pay will be detailed in the Statement of Advice or Record of Advice and where relevant the Letter of Engagement.

- We may charge you a fee by direct invoice, based on our time spent providing your advice, or depending on the value of funds you invest. This will be outlined in a Letter of Engagement.

- You may pay us an ongoing service fee annually or in instalments. This fee may be a fixed amount or may be calculated as a percentage of your investment portfolio value ranging between 0.10% and 1.10%. Your adviser will outline the fees you will pay in the Statement of Advice and Engagement Letter.

For example, if you were to engage RSM to provide a portfolio review service on a $100,000 portfolio, and your adviser charged you 1.10% of your portfolio, RSM would receive $1,100 p.a. (1.1%).

- Your adviser will provide you with an annual fee disclosure statement outlining the fees we have received in the previous 12 months.
- For life insurance products, commissions are included in the amount you pay for the product. The rate ranges from between 0% and 88% of the initial annual premium as initial commission and 0% and 33% per annum of the annual premium for ongoing commission.

For example, if you were to buy life insurance from a life insurance company with an annual premium of $1,000, RSM would receive an upfront commission of $880 (88%). Should you renew your policy in subsequent years, and the premium remains the same, RSM would receive an ongoing commission of $330 p.a. (33%) for as long as you renew the policy.

- We may receive commissions from share brokers for share trades placed with them. This can be up to 2.1% of the value of the trade.

For example, if you bought or sold $10,000 in direct shares, RSM would be entitled to receive a commission of up to $210 (2.1%) for the trade.

- We also on occasion charge a flat fee which would be disclosed either in the form of a Statement of Advice, Record of Advice, Letter of Engagement or Execution Only Letter.

4.2. For products purchased before 1 July 2013

- We may be paid a commission by the financial product provider for additional monies added to an existing financial product of between 0% and 5.50% of the amount invested.

For example, if you invest $10,000 into a financial product and the full entry fee is charged, RSM would receive an upfront commission of $550 (5.5%).

- We may receive ongoing commission payments from the financial product provider between 0% and 1.1% per annum depending on the type of financial product.

For example, if you invested $10,000 into a financial product, RSM would be entitled to receive $110 p.a. (1.1%) for as long as you remain invested in the product.

- For margin lending products, we may receive ongoing commission payments from the product provider of between 0% and 0.44% per annum on the balance of the loan drawn.

For example, if the facility is for $20,000 and the loan amount drawn is $10,000, RSM would be entitled to receive $44 p.a. (0.44%) on the loan amount drawn.

- We may receive volume bonuses or scale bonuses from financial product providers, which historically have ranged from 0.05% to 0.30% per annum. Note any payment received is not an additional cost to you.

For example, if you invested $10,000 into a financial product, RSM would be entitled to receive $30 p.a. (0.30%) for as long as you remain invested in the product.

4.3. Advisers' Remuneration

RSM advisers are salaried employees. As employees, they may be entitled to earn a bonus, depending on meeting revenue, compliance and marketing targets throughout any given financial year.

4.4. Referral Relationships

There may be occasions where you have been referred to RSM by someone else where there is a Referral Arrangement in place. Under that arrangement we would pay them a fee in relation to that referral of up to 50% of any revenue received. Where this occurs we will notify you in the Statement of Advice, Record of Advice and where relevant the Letter of Engagement, who will receive the fees or commissions and the amount they will receive.

All RSM advisers are required to maintain a register of benefits in addition to the licensee. These registers are also available to the public.

5. Will the advice you receive be appropriate for your personal circumstances?

Yes, however to do so, your adviser needs to understand your personal circumstances including your individual objectives, financial situation and needs, before they recommend any solutions to you. Of course, you have the right not to share this information with your adviser. In this case, they may not be able to advise you or, if they do, are required to warn you of the possible consequences. You should read the warnings carefully as the advice we are able to provide you may be restricted as a consequence of you exercising your right not to disclose all the information sought by your adviser.

You will be provided with comprehensive documentation in addition to this Financial Services Guide, being the Statement of Advice or Record of Advice and/or a Product Disclosure Statement which detail recommended solutions, the basis for the recommendations and the methods of adviser remuneration, as well as other key information.

6. What information is maintained in your file, and can you examine it?

Your adviser will maintain a record of your personal financial circumstances, including details of your objectives, financial situation and needs and any other information relating to your specific financial situation. They will also maintain records of any recommendations they make.

RSM is committed to ensuring the privacy and security of your personal information in accordance with the principles of the Privacy Amendment (Private Sector) Act 2001 (Privacy Act).

You have a general right to examine the relevant contents of your file and you should have been provided with our privacy statement which details our approach to privacy.

Should you wish to examine your file just ask your adviser and they will make all necessary arrangements to provide you with relevant information. Further details on our information handling policy can be obtained by contacting our Privacy Officer at RSM.

7. Can you instruct us to buy or sell your investment?

Yes. You may specify how you would like to give your adviser instructions. For example you are able to give your adviser instructions by telephone, fax, email or other means.

8. Professional Indemnity Insurance

RSM has Professional Indemnity Insurance that satisfies the requirements of Section 912B of the Corporations Act 2001. This insurance cover applies where there has been the provision of Financial Services, applicable to RSM Licence No 238282 (outlined in this FSG), by employees and authorised representatives of RSM.
