The GEO is responsible to provide strategic leadership to RSM's regions, committees, and industry groups, as well as support each member firm in leveraging the full strength of the RSM network to drive growth and success.

RSM is active in fully supporting the objective of the Forum of Firms, which is to promote consistent and high-quality standards of financial reporting and auditing practices worldwide and to support convergence of national audit and standards with the International Standards on Auditing. Marion Hannon, RSM's Global Leader for Quality & Risk, currently represents RSM as a member of the Forum of Firm's Transnational Auditors Committee.

Funding

The cost of coordinating the RSM International network is funded by the member firms. Each year the International Board of Directors approves the budget for the coming year.

Substantially all budgeted income is derived from annual membership fees paid by member firms. The fees for member firms are calculated in accordance with an approved funding formula that takes into account a number of factors including the member firm revenues and their level of net referral fees.

Further, through the 'contributed hours' model operated by the Network, Member Firms, depending on their size, are expected to offer certain number of hours each year for the benefit of the Global Network, beyond their region. Sharing knowledge and expertise through producing articles, undertaking inspections, delivering trainings or other, helps the visibility of individuals involved and their member firms, as well as international collaboration and alignment throughout.

Member firms' expectations

To ensure that all members are offering consistently high standards of services throughout the regions, there are certain benchmarks that aim to align each individual member's visions and strategy to the Network's ones. Everyone is encouraged to maintain their own personality, relevant to the local culture, while serving the needs of the Network and its clients with the highest level of quality.

RSM member firms adopt and align with certain policies and procedures, as a requirement of membership, while they can also implement their own additional ones. The common policies and procedures include:

Member firms globally are working towards maintaining the ISO 27001 certification to formally being able to demonstrate the confidentiality, availability and integrity of all client and employee data.

RSM is the only 6th global accounting network to exceed combined fees of $10 billion.

RSM Global Quality Committee

Quality is the foundation of RSM International, and every member firm is required to adhere to strict quality obligations.

To ensure that quality matters receive the necessary focus and attention to uphold consistently high professional standards, the Board established the Global Quality Committee (GQC). As a sub-committee of the Board, the GQC provides oversight and makes recommendations for the Board's review and approval. However, it does not take on management responsibilities, which remain with the CEO, officers, and senior management team.

As outlined in its terms of reference, the GQC consists of five to nine highly qualified and experienced partners or equivalent professionals from RSM Member Firms, all appointed by the Board. Its structure ensures representation from various RSM regions to maintain a diverse and balanced perspective.

The Committee Chair is selected by the Board from among the GQC members and serves a three-year term, with the possibility of reappointment.

To ensure consistency across the network, RSM International has established a set of global methodologies, policies, and practices that align with international standards where applicable. These frameworks are developed by specialists and leaders from member firms and the Global Executive Office, under the oversight of the GQC.

RSM Ethics and Independence

RSM upholds strict ethics and independence policies that all Member Firms must adopt. These policies align with the IESBA International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, ensuring compliance with global independence and ethical standards.

Each Member Firm appoints a Head of Ethics and Independence, responsible for enhancing these policies as needed, incorporating any stricter local regulations. Any modifications to RSM's core policies must be submitted to the Global Executive Office (GEO) for review.

Partners and employees with questions on ethics and independence must consult their firm's Head of Ethics and Independence, who, if needed, escalates matters to the Global Ethics and Independence Leader.

Inspections monitoring

Each RSM Member Firm must implement an annual monitoring process in line with ISQM 1, ensuring its quality management system aligns with RSM standards and all relevant IFAC regulations in effect during the period. A key benefit of this inspection process is the ability to identify areas for improvement in engagement management and client service delivery.

As part of RSM's global inspection programme, an independent team of partners and staff from other Member Firms conducts inspections on a cycle of no more than three years. These inspections are led by qualified partners and senior personnel from other firms, under the oversight of GEO personnel and the Global Leader, Quality & Risk.

The programme also fulfills Forum of Firms membership requirements, ensuring adherence to global professional standards. To uphold compliance with RSM policies, methodologies, and procedures, the RSM International Board has the authority to impose sanctions on Member Firms if necessary.

"This year's results demonstrate both our clients' and Member Firms' resilience amidst challenging market conditions. As we look ahead to 2025, our organisation is committed to building on this solid foundation through evolving the global RSM experience to truly enable our clients and our people to unlock value and take charge of change."

Quality Assurance and Risk oversight

Our Commitment to Quality

At RSM Georgia we acknowledge and respect the value of quality work. Audit quality is the backbone of everything we do. It is what helps us build our clientele, and retain our reputation. Our people, our clients, stakeholders, market participants and the society maintain their trust and confidence to the audit profession through the provision of high quality and reliable deliverables to our services. It is what our clients, regulators and stakeholders are looking for to confidently base their decisions and strategies on our trusted deliverables.

We live our quality through the culture we maintain throughout the organisation both locally as RSM Georgia and also globally through the RSM International Network. Management always encourages and clearly promotes quality through direct communication, demonstrating the appropriate actions by themselves, trainings and other. We proudly take a firm stand that our global audit methodology incorporates such policies and procedures that ensure quality from the client acceptance stage all the way to the submission of the deliverables to the end users.

Our System of Quality Management

Our system of quality management (“SoQM”) comprises of policies, procedures and practises to meet the requirements of the International Standard of Quality Management 1 (“ISQM 1”): “Quality Management for Firms that perform audits or reviews of financial statements, or other assurance or related services engagements”, the International Standard of Quality Management 2 (“ISQM 2”): “Engagement Quality Reviews and the ISA220 (Revised): Quality Management for an audit of financial statements”, issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board.

Our policies are driven by the RSM Quality Assurance Risk Containment Policies (“QARC”), which includes the RSM International minimum quality assurance policies and procedures that shall be adopted by all Member Firms of the Network. The GQC has the overall responsibility for the development of the minimum QARC requirements which comply with the ISQM1 and ISQM2. RSM in collaboration with its Centres of Excellence maintains manuals and tools which assist with the implementation, documentation and communication of quality assurance and risk containment policies and procedures. These include RSM Intrust, RSM Orb and others.

RSM Georgia has developed and implemented a quality management system that aligns with the above-mentioned requirements, incorporating a clear framework for quality objectives and the associated quality risks. In this context, quality objectives are defined as specific, measurable goals that the organization sets to ensure the delivery of high-quality services and continuous improvement. These objectives are systematically linked to quality risks—potential challenges or events that may negatively impact the achievement of those objectives. To proactively address these risks,

RSM Georgia has established planned responses or actions, aimed at eliminating or reducing the likelihood of these risks occurring. This structured approach ensures that risks are identified and managed in a way that supports the organization’s overall commitment to quality and the effectiveness of its quality management system.

Leadership and governance

Our culture from the top

Inevitably when addressing the forest you need to consider the soil, the air and the water that would nurture the trees to grow and produce benefits. Following this logic, one cannot expect quality outcome to engagements if the culture, the values and the leadership of the organisation is weak and not supporting and promoting this to the rest.

It is embedded in our culture that leadership is responsible and accountable for quality. Their actions and behaviours develop commitment to quality throughout the organisation. The core characteristics that define how we interact between us and with our clients is summarised in the RSM DNA:

At RSM, our DNA is built on five key characteristics that define who we are and how we work:

- Courageous - We challenge the status quo, explore new opportunities, and speak up for better outcomes.
- Curious - We ask questions, seek diverse perspectives, and continuously learn to strengthen relationships and insights.
- Collaborative - We believe in teamwork, value different viewpoints, and work together to drive innovation and success.
- Critical Thinkers - We analyze complex information with clarity and objectivity, helping clients make confident decisions.
- Caring - We build lasting relationships with empathy, respect, and a deep understanding of others' goals and challenges.

These values shape our culture, drive our success, and empower us to make a meaningful impact.

Our leaders deliver the RSM experience by living the values and culture of the organisation. They lead by example and they invest to achieve growth without compromising quality by first considering whether it is suitable to accept a new client, whether the human resources or technical and technological capabilities exist or need to be acquired through recruitment or other.

RSM DNA

We are Caring

We are Curious

We are Collaborative

We are Courageous

We are Critical thinkers

Assumption of responsibility

Each and every employee of the Firm, as well as all Partners and Directors, are subject to formal feedback and appraisals. They are all evaluated against their own role and responsibilities and their contributions towards the strategic goals of the Firm. The Partners and Directors are accountable against the results of any internal or external inspections and their demonstrated behaviours.

Acceptance and continuance of client relationship

Our approach to accepting new clients or continuing existing client relationships is grounded in the fundamental principles of delivering high-quality services. We have developed robust policies and procedures for client relationship and audit engagement acceptance, ensuring that we assess our competence to undertake the work, evaluate our resources and time availability, and confirm our ability to comply with relevant ethical standards, including maintaining independence. Additionally, we place significant emphasis on the integrity of the client as part of the decision-making process. The Firm's policy is to only accept engagements from clients who meet the RSM key acceptance and re-acceptance criteria.

These assessments are not one-time evaluations since we regularly reassess them to determine whether it remains appropriate to re-accept a client engagement. If necessary, we have policies and procedures in place for withdrawing from a client relationship or engagement. Throughout this process, we prioritize risk and quality over financial or operational considerations, ensuring that such priorities do not influence our judgment regarding the acceptance or continuation of a client relationship.

In line with these procedures, roles and responsibilities are clearly defined. The engagement partner, or lead partner for the assignment, evaluates the level of risk involved in each engagement and determines whether special considerations are required, including additional staffing, supervision, or review processes.

Furthermore, a second partner reviews and concurs with the decision to accept or continue engagements with clients that present higher risk profiles. This ensures a comprehensive and balanced approach to client acceptance and ongoing engagement management, fostering both quality and trust throughout our relationships.

Who says you can't do it differently?

Where others see challenges,
we look for opportunities.

Ethics and Independence

RSM Georgia maintains strict independence and ethics policies and procedures that adhere to the provisions of the IESBA Code of Ethics and Network requirements.

Engagement partners are required to follow a process to ensure the Firm's independence is established before a client engagement is accepted. They must obtain and document such information about the prospective engagement and services to be provided, to enable them evaluate theirs, their team's and the firm's independence.

- On an annual basis each member of staff signs the "Fit and proper form" which is a personal declaration of independence.
- An Independence register is maintained which lists all independence threats identified which cannot be appropriately mitigated and thus cannot proceed with accepting or continuing a client.
- The Audit Engagement Partner that has acted for a client for a certain period of time is rotated to avoid any familiarity threats.
- Non-audit fees are monitored to ensure compliance with benchmarks based on regulations, policies and procedures.
- All the information needs to be specifically documented in every client and audit file and reviewed by the Partner in charge prior to his appointment and for every subsequent year, who assumes the responsibility for the assessment performed.

The RSM Ethics and Independence Policies require partners, directors and employees to immediately notify the Partner responsible for Ethics and Independence, when circumstances or relationships are identified that could create a threat to independence. Consultation will then take place to determine the appropriate course of action, in accordance with the Firm's consultation policies.

Monitoring of audit independence requirements occurs on three levels - individual, client/ engagement and Firm.

At the individual level, compliance is monitored through the annual independence confirmation process. Partners and professional employees are required to annually complete an independence compliance questionnaire confirming that they:

- Have read the RSM Ethics and Independence policies
- Understand their applicability to their activities
- Are, and have been during the previous year, in compliance with those policies.

Such confirmations are also extended to include understanding and compliance to RSM Quality Assurance and Risk Containment Policies and Procedures, RSM Assurance Services Training and CPD Policies and RSM Anti Bribery and Corruption Policies and Guidelines.

Any qualifications to such confirmation are fully explained in writing and corrective action is taken as appropriate. Annual declarations are tested for accuracy and completeness.

At the engagement level, the engagement leader is responsible for monitoring the independence of the engagement team as well as the provision of other services.

At the Firm level, the Partner responsible for Ethics and Independence monitors compliance with all aspects of the Ethics and Independence policies. In addition, the Firm monitors compliance with all RSM quality policies, including independence, through its internal monitoring and inspection programme.

RSM Georgia is required to report annually to the RSM Global Executive Office, that the Firm has adopted the minimum policies and procedures set forth in the quality assurance policies, which include reference to the Ethics and Independence policies.

RSM InTrust is our integrated global independence and conflicts of interest tracking solution. It is an independence solution that empowers our teams and clients to move forward with confidence.

The software enhances our global independence through an integrated entity management system which receives information from the international RSM Network, applies filtering and establishes possible risks that are assessed through human interaction between the Member Firms involved.

This enables timely and informed data-driven decisions that are required in an ever-changing and increasingly demanding regulatory environment where clients require, more than ever before, transparency proven independence and trustworthy reports that can base their decisions on them.

A partner rotation policy designed to maintain independence, objectivity, and audit quality. The policy ensures that audit engagements are periodically assigned to different partners, allowing for a fresh perspective and reducing the familiarity threat. Rotation is planned and managed through the firm's quality management system, ensuring continuity of knowledge while promoting professional skepticism and unbiased judgment in all client relationships.

We are committed to unlocking the full potential of our workforce by creating and encouraging a culture where diverse skills, knowledge, and expertise are strategically aligned across all departments and functions. Performance evaluations and advancements

Each team member's performance is consistently evaluated through regular assessments conducted by those most familiar with their work and contributions. At least annually, employees participate in a formal review with their manager, partner, or director to discuss progress on objectives, strengths, and areas for growth. Based on these discussions, a tailored development plan for the following year is created, reviewed, and approved for each individual. The results of these evaluations are stored in an internal system, enabling us to track progress over time.

Promotions are determined through a comprehensive evaluation process, ensuring that employees advancing within the firm meet the necessary qualifications, demonstrate strong alignment with our values, and uphold our ethical standards, quality assurance practices, and risk management policies. As of December 2024, we have moved forward with promotions and role enhancements for our staff, alongside salary adjustments to acknowledge and reward their contributions.

We are committed to fostering a flexible and adaptive work environment to cater to diverse needs. Our investment in robust training programs has played a crucial role in enhancing workplace culture and expanding our perspectives. This commitment to growth and improvement has earned us the "Great Place to Work" recognition, and we are dedicated to continuously maintaining and enhancing our work environment. In an industry where staff turnover can be high due to strong market demand for qualified accountants, recognizing and valuing our team's contributions is essential in retaining our key talent.

Our Values

Every decision we make is guided by our values. They are the foundation of everything we do.

Respect and uncompromising integrity

We do the right thing, ensuring our actions speak louder than our words.

Succeeding together

We embrace inclusivity and individuality, and collaborate effectively to build strong relationships based on deep understanding.

Learning and development

At our firm, we are committed to offering opportunities for both personal and professional growth. Developing our people is at the core of who we are—it's embedded in our culture to be curious and courageous, embracing new service lines and industries we have never worked in before. Our team excels when colleagues can share their insights and knowledge with one another.

All employees participate in a mandatory annual technical training program tailored to their specific service line and CPD level. We track attendance to ensure compliance. New hires are assigned a mentor, a more senior team member who helps them seamlessly adapt to our culture, offers on-the-job training, and guides them in navigating both local and global resources.

Our career development plan outlines the knowledge, competencies, and training required for each career level, covering both technical expertise and behavioural skills. In line with RSM's internal CPD Policy, all partners, directors, and qualified professionals must complete a minimum CPD hours.

Training is delivered through a variety of channels, including RSM Campus—a comprehensive online platform offering a wide range of training materials and courses for our employees. In addition, we offer internally generated classroom sessions, virtual classrooms, and on-the-job coaching. Our training curriculum includes technical programs such as IFRS updates, ISA updates, risk and quality updates, Anti-Money Laundering and relevant taxation laws updates, as well as leadership development programs focusing on skills like negotiation, presentation, and communication, and IT information security training. We also offer annual courses on ethics and independence to ensure our team remains aligned with the highest standards.

Approved Employer - Professional Development status

Investing in our people means investing in our future's success.

Engagement Performance

Engagement performance

RSM's audit policies and procedures are designed to ensure that our audit engagements comply with relevant regulatory requirements and professional standards.

The engagement leader has the overall responsibility for the direction, supervision and performance of the engagement in compliance with applicable professional standards, regulatory and legal requirements and for ensuring an appropriate audit report is issued.

Specific responsibilities to ensure quality control are:

- Ensuring engagement team's compliance with ethical and independence requirements
- Ensuring appropriate acceptance and continuance procedures are performed and documented
- Ensuring engagement team has appropriate competence and experience
- Ensuring an engagement quality control reviewer (EQCR) is assigned where required
- Ensuring appropriate consultations take place, and the documentation thereof
- Reviewing work performed to ensure it is compliant with applicable professional standards, regulatory and legal requirements and that such work supports the conclusions reached
- Ensuring report or other deliverables are in accordance with the terms of the engagement and any specific policies applying to the type of engagement
- Considering whether any deficiencies arising from the monitoring and inspection process have any effect on the engagement.

Supervision and review

Review and supervision are essential components of our quality management system to guarantee that all work performed is a top standard.

The level of review and supervision will vary with the scope of the engagement and the composition of the involved team.

It is the duty of each of the firm's service lines to determine the individual review requirements of the services that they perform, depending on the nature and degree of complexity of each assignment.

Our review process ensures that all work is properly performed, recorded, and concluded, and that opinions and conclusions reached in deliverables are based on a good, well-documented basis.

This is a process designed to deliver quality outcomes, minimise risk, and provide assurance of compliance with applicable professional and regulatory standards.

Engagement Partner and Engagement Quality Reviewer

The role of the Engagement Partner is critical to the effective completion and the delivery of high-quality services.

As the individual with the overall responsibility for the engagement, the Engagement Partner ensures that the work is performed according to relevant professional standards and regulations. He is accountable for the overall quality of the engagement, ensuring proper supervision and review as well as the final conclusions and integrity of the deliverables presented to the client.

For certain high-risk engagements, such as listed or public interest entities, an Engagement Quality Reviewer (EQR) is also assigned.

The EQR provides an independent review of the engagement to ensure additional assurance that the work performed is adequate and that the evidence documented in the audit file is adequately considered before the final report or deliverable is issued.

The EQR should be an independent partner, director, or other qualified person who does not take part in the engagement itself or in providing any other service to the client entity.

The EQR ought to have the necessary authority, technical proficiency, and experience within the concerned industry sector to be able to review and comment on the work. It verifies that the engagement is complying with relevant professional standards, regulatory and legal requirements.

Consultation

RSM professionals are expected to seek assistance from persons possessing specialised knowledge and expertise whenever they encounter situations where they lack sufficient knowledge and experience and in certain specific situations prescribed by RSM policy.

The engagement partner is responsible for ensuring that the issue on which consultation was sought and the results of the consultation - including the decisions taken, the basis thereof and how those decisions were implemented - are fully documented and agreed with the person(s) consulted.

There are policies and procedures for dealing with and resolving differences of opinions within the engagement team, with those consulted and when applicable, between the engagement partner, engagement quality reviewer and or other.

This provides an additional comfort to the people dealing with the firm that their information is maintained using strict standards of security requirements that aim in minimising data leakage, improper information handling or human errors.

This certification reaffirms our dedication to maintaining rigorous information security standards and underscores our clients' confidence in our services.

Monitoring

Monitoring Activities and Member Firm Inspection Programme

As an RSM Member Firm, we are required to establish and implement a comprehensive monitoring and remediation process to ensure that our system of quality management is appropriate, effective, and fully aligned with RSM's global standards, expectations, and all relevant professional and regulatory requirements.

This process includes developing and executing an inspection programme that supports the individual responsible for overseeing the system, enabling them to assess whether the system meets its objectives.

The programme ensures compliance with RSM's general quality management policies across all service lines, including Assurance, Tax, and Risk Advisory services, and monitors adherence to RSM's Ethics & Independence Policies. Additionally, it addresses any specific requirements outlined in the RSM Quality Assurance & Risk Containment (QARC) Policies.

Our monitoring activities include continuous evaluations to assess the effectiveness of our quality management system, ensuring it aligns with both RSM's expectations and regulatory standards. When quality issues are identified, we conduct root cause analyses to determine the underlying factors and implement targeted remedial actions. The outcomes of these inspections, including any deficiencies and corrective actions, are documented in the final inspection report and submitted to the RSM Global Executive Office (GEO), which includes feedback on the process, results, and planned steps for addressing any shortcomings.

Through this approach, we maintain reasonable assurance that our system of quality management is operating effectively, compliant with all applicable requirements, and focused on continuous improvement in all service areas.

Our Annual evaluation of the effectiveness of our system of quality management

In compliance with the requirements of ISQM 1, the Managing Partner, who holds ultimate responsibility for our SoQM, conducted an evaluation of the system's effectiveness. This evaluation was based on the outcomes of the monitoring activities carried out throughout the year. The conclusion of the annual evaluation, dated 20 December 2024, is that RSM Georgia's SoQM offers reasonable assurance that the objectives set for the system are being satisfactorily met.

Global Inspections Programme

In accordance with the RSM Network's requirements, each Member Firm is mandated to establish and implement its own inspection programme, adhering to the RSM Member Firm Inspection Policies. Under the Global Inspection Programme, RSM International coordinates inspections conducted by global inspection teams, which are comprised of individuals from RSM Member Firms and, where appropriate, from the GEO. These inspections are scheduled on a cycle not exceeding three years for each Member Firm. Within this framework, global inspections are planned and approved by the GQC. The GQC may decide, if necessary, to conduct more frequent inspections of a Member Firm than the typical three-year cycle. The Global Inspection Programme's scope includes evaluating the Member Firm's system of quality management, as well as assessing the professional services offered, such as audits and reviews of financial statements, assurance services, and non-assurance services.

The firm's audit practice is specifically subject to quality control visits by the Service for Accounting, Reporting and Auditing Supervision (SARAS). The most recent SARAS inspection for our firm was completed in 2023.

On 12 February 2024, SARAS penalized the firm on a complaint filed by a client for not completing an audit on timely manners, however, subsequently this order was suspended until the court's final decision in the mentioned case enters into legal force.
