

RSM will you help drive an effective, strategic internal audit function.

In a world of rapid technological change fuelled by innovation and automation, internal audit is a strategic asset. An effective function accelerates success by giving stakeholders confidence in their ability to meet objectives—and stay in control—no matter where the organization's future path leads.

Whether you are looking to develop an internal audit function or make an existing one more effective, RSM has the experience tools and dedicated full-time resources to help you succeed. We take the time to understand your unique business so that we can help you develop and implement a strategy that aligns with your goals and growth objectives.

Our advisors bring depth and breadth of experience working on diverse engagements across an array of industries and understand how to make your internal audit function a critical component of your business.

We work with you to:

- Conduct quality assurance reviews to assess the effectiveness and efficiency of your internal audit function and identify opportunities for improvement
- Supplement your resources and extend your reach by co-sourcing with internal audit, on a project by project basis, by geography or critical skills
- Provide an outsourced internal audit solution that includes planning, risk assessment, reporting, and the tracking and resolution of issues using RSM's methodologies and skilled dedicated professionals
- Leverage RSM's extensive experience in controls (i.e. SOX) compliance assessments to maximize efficiency and ensure your program complies with relevant regulations

With guidance and support from RSM, you gain confidence in your internal audit process and enhance the value for your organization.
