

Terms and conditions

Please, read the following terms and conditions before you continue with the subscription to this website and its content.

Introduction

RSM Peru (hereinafter referred to as “RSM”) is part of RSM global, the 6th world’s largest network of audit, tax, consulting independent firms. RSM is represented in 120 countries and brings together the talent of over 43,000 professionals in more than 800 offices worldwide.

RSM is located in Avenida La Floresta 497, Urb. Chacarilla, district of San Borja, province and department of Lima.

User acceptance

When subscribing to the RSM Community, the visitor will be considered hereinafter as User of the information provided by RSM by this mean. Our terms and conditions regulate the consent and the reception of regular information as news, newsletters, advertising, invitations and events, blogs, forum groups, webinars, as well as other information related to the services provided by RSM.

Use of the privacy information and policies

This website only gathers information provided by the User. When accepting the subscription, the User provides its consent to receive information related to the serviced that RSM provides. If the user does not wish to keep receiving informative content from RSM, may request not to receive any more communications at any time by sending an email to comunicaciones@rsm.pe.

In no case will RSM communicate the data to third parties, further than the legal obligations that may arise from treatment, nor will use such information for purposes different than the indicated, unless expressly and prior communication of the data owner.

Terms and conditions amendments

RSM may, in any moment modify the Terms and Conditions of this media. The updated versions of the Terms and Conditions will appear in this website and, without prejudice to the communication addressed to the clients, these will be applied immediately. The User will be responsible of reviewing regularly the Terms and Conditions. In addition, continuing with the subscription will be considered acceptance of the presented amendments.

Privacy and use of information

The data provided at the subscription moment and the use of such data will be protected by the Personal Data Protection Law, Law 29733, its regulations and complementary standards, by the Consumer Protection and Defense Code, Law 29571 and its amendments; and by the General Data Protection Regulation.